COOK REPRESENTATIVE TALKS TOURIST TRADE

Will Recommend to Firm to Take Up Hawaiian Islands Business.

"In getting tourists go after good people and not cut-rate people, who will do you no good. Also preserve local conditions as much as possible and remember that people come here to see Honolulu and its people and their customs more than anything else."

The above statement was made at the meeting of the Promotion Committee yesterday afternoon by B. F. Clawson, the representative of Cook & Son, who came here to meet the Asahi party.

"There are very great tourist possibilities here, dependent, of course, on an efficient steamer service," continued Clawson. "Visitors must know for certain when they will be able to get away again."

"There is just as good a field on the Pacific Coast for travel here as there is on the Atlantic Coast for travel to Bermuda and the West Indies. The latter business is constantly growing and the number of tourists who visit Bermuda and the West Indies under the Cook auspices is limited only by the capacity of the steamers. There is no reason why Hawaii should not have just as great attraction for the people of the Pacific Coast."

"It is true that one can make Bermuda in 45 hours, but there are lots of people whose holiday lasts longer than two weeks, so that is no argument against Honolulu. There is a steamer from New York to Bermuda every ten days and we sent 100 tourists on every boat, on an average, last summer."

"When I return to San Francisco I shall report favorably on the matter. You have all that is wanted here. Keep the place as it is. People who come here don't want to see a Bowery and the Monte Carlo proposition will keep good people away instead of attracting them."

A letter was received advising the establishing of a press bureau to supply articles on Hawaiian matters to the mainland press. It was decided to adopt the plan provided enough of the money now spent on the mainland could be diverted to this purpose without causing additional expense to the committee.

A. Hume Ford wrote that he had obtained permission to use the song "Aloha Oe" in any way which would benefit Hawaii, and asked that the Committee provide electroplates in order that it might be printed in large numbers and be distributed on the steamers and other places.

A letter from E. H. Baker furnished the transportation rates of the Waimea (Kauai) Stables; also a list of Kauai's attractions, including recreations and scenic points.

An inquiry from Hongkong was to hand asking for three copies of "The Crossroads of the Pacific" map. Agent Mackenzie of the C. P. R., Trout Lake, B. C., stated in a letter that he hoped to be able to send some people this way next winter.

The American office of the London Times asked for fresh material to be used in revising an article on Hawaii for a new edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica.
